Thinking Out Loud

H. M. L.

Words have their vogue like styles in millinery. Only a few months ago "boondogling" came into general use. One rarely sees it in print now. It signified either "slacking" or "wasting" or a combination of both, and was applied to relief measures which accomplished little for the money lavishly expended. Perhaps "boondogling" is now obsolescent because Federal relief money is not so plentiful and evidences of waste are therefore not so many. The waste that once attached to appointing to lucrative jobs needy politicos and parasitic brass hats, who, in the language of the late Abe Ruef would eat the paint of the White House unless satiated with Federal pie, has moved into higher and more refined spheres.

Something like $600,000,000 of old age security pension money deposited in the Federal Treasury, has lingered there very briefly. The Treasurer has promptly dropped in the sacred cash box a series of I. O. U's and taken the cash for current and general government expenses, which are running something like $400,000,000 higher than the budget estimate of last June. Any private corporation which undertook financing of this kind would be condemned either for lunacy or fraud. Of course the Administration will try to laugh this one off along with the other wastes and cheats that has marked its fiscal policy, on the gen- theory that voters of the United States are too dumb to understand high finance.

It was pointed out in these columns and in thousands of other newspapers when the Old Age Pension bill was passed that there was no protection provided against raiding by a hard pressed Santa Claus. But at that time we were reassured: "Tush, Tush, your Uncle Sam, the sould of honesty would not do a thing like that." But it has happened and now the tax payers must not only pay the Old Age Security tax faithfully and promptly, but they must also repay those Federal I O U's along with interest. Actually of course this generation will never liquidate this new bond issue, nor the 17 billion dollars which the striving after the Abundant Life has already cost. It will be a continuing burden for half a century or more. As a matter of practice, when the Federal government begins to pay Old Age pensions on a basis of the taxes now imposed, unless this borrowing from the Old Age fund is stopped, they will become a charge against current revenues. We have not the least doubt that these pensions will be paid, for this contract is entered into with the great majority of the votrs. It is a contract which cannot be repudiated, as was the gold clause in government bond issues three years ago, because, while repudiation of the gold clause in general, affected only a few of the detested "economic royalists," the pension contract affects many millions of voters.

But now the shoe pinches. The tax burden and the uncertainty attaching to future tax plans has scared investors and speclators in the best American securities. The tax on surplus and reserves of corporations have left them a disastrous alternative. Either they may pay the tax which in the case of small growing business corporations is extremely onerous, or they may distribute their surplus in dividends and leave themselves without reserves with which to expand, or to cushion the adversity of another depression. It will be remembered that following the crash of 1929, the wealthy corporations with great cash reserves were able to maintain their payrolls and pay scales, when called upon to do so by President Hoover, and thus delay the cruel impact of unemployment for more than a year following the market debacle. Actually corporations spent billions of their private funds in staving off unemployment, which under present conditions, would mean just that much saving to tax payers.

By diverting these corporate funds into the Federal Treasury by the present tax system, the Administration has not only removed from employers the moral obligation they once felt to look after the welfare of their employes, and thousands of them did feel that obligation, but it has so crippled them and wrapped them around with other restrictions, that the stock market now reflects the sharp distrust with which business men and investors in securities now regard the New Deal. So, for the first time in several years we find President Roosevelt cultivating business leaders and consulting with them. With that inimitable and chameleon quality that characterizes him, he says in effect, to the wild eyed reformers who have perfectly insulated him from the realities, and whose adulatio he prizes: "Pardon me, if I seem to neglect you for awhile. I must for a time consider means to avoid an impending disaster and for that reason am conferring with hard headed and hard hearted business men."

Twin Cities Program For Armistice Day

Judge George L. Jones will be Armistice Day speaker at the exercises which will be held next Thursday in Memorial Hall, Grass Valley. The program in the hall will begin at 11 o'clock in the morning. Both Nevada City and Grass Valley will join in observance of the day.

The Nevada City and Grass Valley high school bands will provide the music both for the parade and the program in Memorial Hall. Howard Bennetts, past commander of the Grass Valley Legion Post, is chairman of the parade committee. He has asked the public school pupils of Grass Valley, and the students in Mt. St. Mary's Academy to march in the procession as they have for many years past. The American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars and other patriotic organizations will march. Mr. Bennetts asks that all those participating in the parade, form at Mt. St. Mary's Academy at 9:45 o'clock Thursday.

The procession will march down South Auburn street and traverse the principal business streets, arriving at Memorial hall at 11 o'clock.

Other features of the day will be the sports program at Memorial Park in Grass Valley. During the noon hour there will be races and games for the younger boys and girls there. There will be Armistice Day banquet Wednesday evening for the American Legion at the King's Koffee Kup. The big sports event of Armistice Day will be the football game between grid teams of Nevada City and Grass Valley high schools.

Those of Nevada county who gave their lives in the world war and whose names will receive honor and reverence on Armistice Day are as follows:

GRASS VALLEY

Anthony J. Bevilacqua, Issac Leslie Fleming, William H. Kneebone, Clarence Crase Thomas, Robert Dyer, Hedley Hill, Albert Pinkham, J. M. Spencer, Lawrence A. ## DINNER DANCE FOR ROTARY CLUB

The Rotary club on Thursday evening will hold a dinner dance at the National Hotel to which their wives, sisters, cousins and aunts are cordially invited. Bob Evans in charge of the program for the evening promises that there will be some especially capitvating music for the event. It has been several months since the Rotary club gave a "ladies night" and all members and their women folks are looking forward to the affair with much pleasure.

MASS FOR MISS MAHER

Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father O'Reilly at 11 o'clock this morning at St. Canice church for the repose of the soul of Miss Margaret Maher. Miss Maher passed away at her home on Factory street on Friday morning. The rosary was said last night at 7:30 o'clock.

Miss Maher is survived by her sister, Miss Rose Means, and two brothers, Frank and J. T. Maher. Interment was in the Catholic cemetery on West Broad street.

The pall bearers were Wm. Coughlin, Wm. Tickell, J. Colley, F. Guenther, Ed Baker and George Walling.

Mrs. Carl Johnson and nieces, Betty and Lois Held and nephew, Billie Held, spent Sunday in Marysville visiting Mrs. Johnson's aunt, Mrs. Carl Becker.

CHILD LIFE IN GERMANY SUBJECT OF P. T. A. TALK

The Nevada City high school P. T. A. will hold a meeting at high school at 3 o'clock next Friday afternoon when Dr. Paula Tobias will speak on "Child Life in Germany." The association is planning a cup shower and it was decided to purchase them from the Alpha hardware store as they were American made and the members believe in "Buy American."

SHERIFF TOBIASSEN BAGS BIG BROWN BEAR

Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen killed a 260 pound brown bear on Burlington Hill Ridge or Excelsior Point east of Nevada City Sunday. Throngs came to see the big creature when it was displayed on the streets here yesterday.

The dogs treed the big bruih and Tobiassen followed up with the gun. The season opens on bears October 15 and closes the last of the year.

In the hunting party were Sheriff Dewey Johnson of Sierra county, and Chester Butz of Downieville; Ray Hawkins and Ernie Johnson, Alleghany; Sheriff C. J. Tobiassen, Bill Mounton and Board of Equalization Agent Russell B. Farley, all of Nevada City.

MARRIED IN RENO

Leslie Orzalli son of Mr. and Mrs. Carribean Orzalli of Grove street, and Miss Jennie Colombo of Long street, motored to Reno, Sunday and were married. Both young people have attended the local schools and are popular with the younger set. The news will come as a surprise to their many friends.

Plans are to spend a week honeymoon visiting Boulder Dam, Los Angeles and other places of interest in southern California.

The groom is employed at the Murchie mine where he has worked the past eight years, and is known as a steady reliable young man. Upon their return they will make their home in this city.

FIRE IN UREN HOME

The Nevada City fire department was called to a fire in the Ed C. Uren home on East Broad street Sunday which did some damage to the linoleum on the floor and scorched the ceiling near a stove when a waste basket caught fire. Mrs. Uren discovered the smoke and called her husband who threw water over it practically extinguishing it before help arrived. Mr. Uren stated he lost his comfortable coat and hat which he wore each day and that was really the worst loss to him.

JUST WONDERIN'

I wonder when a dreamer dreams
And tells his dream and goes his way,
If there is something left behind
Which cannot perish and decay.
I wonder if the dream remains,
A thing of life and beauty still,
To steal into the hearts of men
And so incline them to its will.

I wonder who composed the lines which I now pass along to you. They were found within the pages of an ancient book during the bitter days when our President, Woodrow Wilson, was suffering the fate of the dreamer whose untimely and incomprehensible dream is despised and rejected by the men and women of his time.

To my mind the little stanzas so vividly portrayed the position of fame, dignity and high command once enjoyed by our unhappy President, and the utter completeness of his downfall, that memory linked them inseparably with his honored but tragic name.

"Once I sat on a golden throne
And held the world in fee;
But below I heard my brothers moan
And I bent me down to see.
Lovingly bent and looked on them,
But I had no secret pain;
I sat aloft in my ruby gem
Like a rainbow without the rain.
My throne is shattered, helpless I lie
At the foot of its golden stair,
And the sorrows of all humanity
Through my heart make a thoroughfare."

Woodrow Wilson dreamed and told his dream and went his way; rebuffed, disappointed, broken hearted, but the dream did not die. Perhaps in a more propitious time when at length the world is weary of the disgrace, insanity and waste of warfare, it may smile again and lead the way to a true and abiding peace.

Meanwhile, in the light of another Armistice Day, let us do honor in our hearts to our war time President, Woodrow Wilson. Let us forget his faults and failures in the contemplation of our own broken faith with those who died to make his dream come true.

I think they watch us from some far off shore,
Their faces grave with doubt;
"Have you kept faith with us?" they cry,
I hear the faint, far echo of their shout,
"You go on in the same old, thoughtless way,
From day to day—unheeding and unthinking.
Our work is done, the rest remains to you;
Have you kept faith with us—have you been true?"

—A. MERRIAM CONNER.

New Scout Troop To Get Flags; Court Of Honor Tuesday Night

It will be a great occasion tomorrow (Tuesday) evening at Seaman's Lodge, when the new troop, No. 24 of the Boy Scouts of Nevada City, receives its charter and beautiful flags, Old Glory and their troop flag, and Troop No. 6 directs a court of honor in which the new troop will see how its done and also be the recipient of honors which will be bestowed by the court.

The Camp Fire Girls will be there in force, the Rotary club which is sponsoring Troop 24, the Native Sons, which is the sponsor, and has been for many years, of Troop 6, and of course the parents of the scouts.

Arrangements have been made to have Seaman's lodge thoroughly warmed, not only the old part of the building but also the new addition which has nearly as much floor space as the original hall. Seating arrangements have also been made so that a large audience may be accommodated.

Presiding over the meeting will be Harley M. Leete, president of the Rotary club, and Dr. C. W. Chapman, secretary of the Native Sons, which sponsors Troop 26. The presentation of the charter of the new troop will be made by Harris Ricksecker, scout executive of Tahoe area. The two flags will be presented by Andrew Larsen, chairman of the Rotary scout committee.

Following these presentations the court of honor will be held, of which ceremonies Troop 6 will have charge. Presiding over the Court of Honor will be John Fortier who will officiate in the absence of Judge Raglan Tuttle who is presiding in Monterey county's superior court. He will be assisted by Jeff Mooers, for many years affiliated with scout activities in this city.

Scoutmaster Elmer Marriott will present his Troop No. 6 in the beautiful candle ceremony, and Scoutmaster Wallace Lewis will introduce the new Troop 24 to its sponsors.

WHO CAN BEAT OLSON IS QUERY OF DEMOCRATS

By CLEM WHITAKER

Who can beat Olson?

That query, in recent weeks has become almost an anvil chorus in "regular" Democratic conclaves.

The party chieftains are convinced that the nomination of Culbert Olson as the Democratic standard-bearer would spell their doom—just as the nomination of Upton Sinclair played havoc with well laid plans in 1934.

Olson, they believe, is a "set-up" for their ancient enemies, the Republicans. But the Democrats—at least the "regulars"—have had almost as bad a case of defeatism when they contemplated Olson as the Republicans have had when they sadly counted that 700,000 Democratic mapority in registration. Olson is still laps out in front (they admit it), even with his colossal blunder in espousing the One-House legislature; Olson is the man to beat!

Who can beat Olson?

"Give us a leg up," say the Legg followers, in effect, "and well take care of Mr. Olson."

Legg, heretofore, has been somewhat of an off stage character. He has contented himself with a quiet campaign with little or no publicity. But Ross Marshall, an adept Los Angeles impresario, has been busily contacting for Mr. Legg—for lo! these many months. And now, emerges Legg—the compromise candidate-

As he promises to figure in the news more and more from now until the Olson challenger is determined upon, perhaps a thumbnail sketch of Mr. Legg is in order.

Mr. Legg in 1936, was the Roosevelt manager in Southern California—the fellow who poured oil on troubled waters and united leftists and conservatives behind the President. He was also the compromise choice for vice chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee—nominated by Olson, seconded by McAdoo! And that, according to the politicians, is a phenonemal accomplishment.

But Mr. Legg, although a thorough-going New Dealer, is outspokenly against the One-House Legislature, and is considered acceptable to business interests as well as his own party. If they figure (as they may) that a Republican can't be elected, business groups might support him. But on the other hand, Mr. Legg was a stalwart, in the fight to return relief administration to the counties (which Governor Merriam stopped by veto) and is also popular with the submerged classes. He started as a water boy for a railroad construction gang—and later built railroads as a civil engineer of unusual ability. That's the saga of Mr. Legg—and not bad, at all, when you consider that Democracy needs a compromise candidate. He'll bear watching!

JOHN HENNESSY LAID TO REST THIS MORNING

Funeral services were held at St. Patrick's Catholic church in Grass Valley this morning for the late John T. Hennessy. Interment was in the Catholic cemetery. Rev. Father James O'Meara was in charge of the services. The body was brought to Grass Valley Saturday from San Francisco where deceased passed away, late Thursday night.

John Thomas Hennessy 67 years of age, was born in Grass Valley and spent his entire life there.

As a young man he taught school at Allison Ranch and other Nevada county rural schools. Later he qualified as a lawyer and became one of the most eminent in Nevada county. He was senior surviving member of the firm of Nilon, Hennessy and Kelly. Surviving him are his brother James S. Hennessy of Grass Valley and two sisters Mrs. E. M. Walsh of San Francisco and Miss Sara Hennessy of Grass Valley.

Judge Raglan Tuttle adjourned the superior court on Friday out of respect to deceased who for many years was a member of the Nevada County Bar. Judge Tuttle named W. E. Wright and Lynne Kelly to draw up resolutions in John T. Hennessy's memory and present them at the regular law and motion day, November 19.

Cross-Currents

The American housewife, mistress of the nation's buying, today finds herself, in an embarrassing predicament.

It the same predicament that tantalizes the harassed politician, turns the heads of economists gray, and makes the wage-earner wonder why his paycheck disappears like butter under the sun. Even one of the country's shrewdest analysts, John T. Flynn, admits that the cross-currents of wages and prices, crashing against the beleagured housewife at market and her husband at work, creates a topsy-turvy picture today.

Every good housewife wants her husband to get a good wage, but she doesn't want it gobbled out of her purse at the market place. At present both things are happening. Wages are advancing, but galloping several strides ahead are the prices.

The politicians, possibly trying to unravel this tangled skein, have helped complicate the works with price fixing regulations. Whatever its value in theory, in practice—where it hurts most!—all the regulation has been UP and not down. One big merchandising concern is now in court for refusing to make as big a profit as a price-fixing law orders it to!

Where a dealer was once satisfied to sell an article for 53c, a price-fixing law now enables the manufacturer to compel that dealer to sell the same article at 79c. The housewife, in her wrath at such political mismanagement, may well pray for relief from its manipulations!

Out of the confused currents of lagging wages and rising costs, this much plainly emerges: price-fixing to enforce higher prices eventually reduces purchasing. When less is purchased, less is produced, industries slow up, and jobless men again haunt the streets of America.—Contributed.

Quints' Triumph

The Dionne quintuplets have just made another conquest!

Over two hundred sober-sided biologists, psychologists, and educators recently assembled in Toronto to read solemn scientific papers on the quints and discuss, in potent three and four syllable words, just what science has found out about these youngsters.

No doubt, these educators enjoyed each other's dissertations on environment, growth, and personality factors, but judging from all reports the scientists' real fun didn't begin till they arrived at Callander.

Hidden by a screen and wire fence, the two hundred psychologists and educators, murmured, cried, and ejaculated with pleasure, mirth and affection, at the antics of the five little girls on their playground. These were real, honest-to-goodness youngsters of flesh and blood, and not the shadowy figures of the laboratory studies and charts.

There was Emilie making a sand pie, and Cecile furiously riding her velocipede with a red wagon tied on behind, and Yvonne proudly pedaling with her hands off the bars and Annette gayly singing—off key— and Marie lugging a box to set up a make-believe store counter.

Proud and pleased as parents, the educators agreed the quints were healthy, normal and captivating, endorsing the viewpoint most of America had long since arrived at. And Dr. Dafoe summed up their comments by adding, "I'd just say they were smart kids!"—Contributed.

TEN YEAR OLD BOY VICTIM OF PARALYSIS

The ten year old son of Paul Kemper of this city and Mrs. Vivian Kemper of Grass Valley, died in a Grass Valley hospital yesterday from infantile paralysis. The little lad was stricken three days ago in San Francisco and brought to Grass Valley for treatment. His mother, Mrs. Vivian Kemper, is secretary to Dr. Landis in Grass Valley. Funeral services, which were strictly private were held this morning.

PURSE SNATCHER IN JAIL

Kenneth Cowles, who snatched a purse from Mrs. W. I. Holland on Friday evening was arraigned before Judge W. L. Mobley in the Nevada Township Justice Court and his bond fixed at $2000, in default of which he is jail. Due to the absence of District Attorney toll the date of preliminary examination has not been set. Cowles has served time in the Preston School of Industry.

Robert Proctor, student at the University of California spent the week end with his folks in this city.

From Aunt Sarah

We all make meat balls occassionly but this "Little Meat Balls" recipe is quite different from any you have tried.

Little Meat Balls

One pound hamburger steak.
One-half cup pork sausage.
One can tomatoes.
One small onion chopped fine.
One beaten egg.
One-quarter cup milk.
One-half cup corn meal.
Mix ¼ of the tomatoes and the rest of the ingredients into small balls the size of a walnut, keeping hands covered with meal to prevent sticking.

Into a large sauspan put 1 pint hot water, the rest of the tomatoes, 1 chopped onion, ½ clove garlic, 1 teaspoon Chili powder, salt and pepper. Let come to a boil then add the little meat balls and let cook about 45 minutes. Watch to keep from buning but do not stir, rather lift from bottom with spoon.

A penny bank will pay the difference between ordinary lighting in your home and scientifically correct better light for better sight.

For better lighting today is both sensibly reasonable as well as scientifically right. Modern lamps are without fussy, frilly shades that subdue light. Modern lamps instead have light-colored shades that are open at the top and set on higher stands to give light a chance to diffuse throughout a room.

More than a half million Better Sight lamps were sold last year. Persons who use them say there is nothing like them. These lamps do give more light, without glare, and for just a few pennies more a day than ordinary light that so often causes squinting and eyestrain.

Capital Business
Compiled by Sacramento Chamber of Commerce

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 8.—A concerted fight to assure the continuance of appropriations to the $170,000,000 Central Valley Water Project is being planned by various California groups.

Congressman John F. Dockweiler of Los Angeles has announced that he "hopes" he "can help prepare an appropriation bill in the next session of Congress which will contain $20,000,000 for the furtherance of the Central Valley Project."

Reports from a recent meeting of the public works executives in New Orleans indicate anticipated cuts in rivers and harbors appropriations at the next session of Congress. State Senator John B. McColl of Shasta county pointed out that this might affect the Central Valley appropriation and immediately organized a group to combat any proposed reductions.

Harry Lutgens, State Director of Institutions, in a report to Governor Merriam, announced that the excess population in California's mental hospitals will be reduced 17 per cent by March 1, 1938, as a result of a widespread building program following appropriation of $8,000,000 in the last two years.

Unemployment relief cases cared for by the state dropped from 40,773 in August to 37,246 in September, a decline of 9 per cent, State Relief Administrator Harold E. Pomeroy reported this week. At the same time State Controller Harry B. Riley revealed the campaign against unemployment relief chiseling and irregularities of administration of the dole has saved the treasury $1,250,833 in the last 17 months.

Arthur S. Dudley, Secretary-Manager of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce returned from a convention of the National Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries in Buffalo, New York, reported that the chamber leaders of the nation are optimistic about the business outlook in spite of the fact that they admit business is slower than it was a few months ago.

The 12th annual Fall Flower Show sponsored by the Sacramento Garden Club will be held in McKinley Park, a garden center, November 6 and 7. The show is open to the public. Leaping flames of the inferno will be the setting for the annual Junior College Art Ball Friday night in the Memorial Auditorium.

Sacramento has been offered by the National Park Service a vacation camp completely equipped with cabins and located on a 5,000 acre site in Mendocino county. City officials, following an inspection last week end, indicated the city will accept the park to be operated on a self-supporting basis similar to the city's present recreational center, Camp Sacramento in the high Sierras.

The National Park Service has developed the camp with a view of using it as a model for other municipally owned summer resorts throughout the country.

The WEEKLY CONSTITUTIONAL
by MAX BERNS

The Power of the People

Why does our Constitution make the people the supreme authority and what protection does it provide so that "we the people" may keep our supremacy?

"I know no safe depository of the ultimate powers of society but the PEOPLE themselves," said Thomas Jefferson long after completing his term as president. "My personal interest in such questions is entirely extinct, but not my wishes for the longest possible continuance of our government on its pure principles.

"If the three powers, Congress, the President and the Supreme Court, as provided in Articles I, II and III of our Constitution maintain their mutual independence of each other, it may last long, but not so if either can assume the authorities of the other."

MINERS FOUNDRY ONE OF COUNTY'S BIG INDUSTRIES

Today Miners Foundry of Nevada City shipped a truck load of machinery to the A. D. Hadsell property at Forest Hill. The foundry is installing a complete cyanide plant or 100 ton unit for the Hadsell property. A car load of steel was shipped to Auburn and taken to the property and is being used in construction of tanks on the property, the foundry having men on the job.

Yesterday the foundry sent out a complete 40 ton rod mill to Messrs. Waters and Hunt at Greenville, Plumas county. Mr. Hunt is a professor at University of California, Berkeley and the two men are developing a mine property.

The local plant is installing a 150 ton daily capacity all steel ore bin on the Golden Center mine property in Grass Valley. Work will be completed in about ten days by the foundry crew.

The foundry has had a splendid season having a payroll of 42 men during the summer which has now been cut to 32 men for the winter.

A Daughter is Born to Mr. and Mrs. W. Sheldon

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Sheldon of Nevada City were happy to receive news Sunday that a daughter had been born to them in Berkeley, early Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon went to Berkeley Friday. Both mother and daughter are doing splendidly. Mrs. Sheldon's aunt, Miss C. Green of Berkeley is at the Sheldon home on the old Town Talk road with Jacqueline and Jane Sheldon.

Jane Bennett Saturday Hostess

Miss Jane Bennett was hostess Saturday evening at her home on High street, to a delightful party. A "scavanger hunt" and other games were greatly enjoyed.

Present for the jolly time were Madge Pianezzi, Betty Andrews, Rose Pontiscelli, June Paxson, Dot Hoff, Shirley Davis, Bon Gilkey, Melvin Clark, Elton Tobiassen, Karl Kopp, Fred Garrison, Reg Kennedy, Albert Pontiscelli, Bob Carr, Norman Kopp and Jane Bennett.

Personal

Miss Fern Rockefeller spent last week end in San Francisco.

Charles Jeffrey, who attends business college in Oakland, spent last week end in Nevada City with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Jeffrey.

Mrs. Marvin Schance and infant daughter returned Saturday from Sacramento.

Mrs. Bessie Wales, 80 years of age and one of the oldest natives of Grass Valley, passed away yesterday. She leaves six daughters and one son. Funeral services will be held in Grass Valley Wednesday.

Martin Costello, mining man of Forest Hill who is interested in gravel and quartz mines in that district, was a Nevada City visitor today calling on Engineer Ed C. Uren while here.

Mrs. Otto E. Schiffner has as a guest Miss Virginia Bolger of Pittsburgh, Pa. Miss Bolger is a sister to Mrs. Milton Schiffner and came to California with Mr. and Mrs. Schiffner when they returned recently from a two months visit with Mrs. Schiffner's relatives in the eastern city. Mr. Otto E. Schiffner spent the week end in San Francisco and returned with Miss Bolger.

M. A. Morrison, bookkeeper of the Sugar Pine Products company at Graniteville is in Nevada City working on the books of the company's plant on Spring street. He has been in the employ of the company 20 years and will spend the winter at the Nevada City plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Janiss, owners, and operators of My Place in this city, returned Friday evening from a ten day vacation spent in Southern California. They visited for a time with friends in Hermosa and while there Mr. Janiss attended Rotary meeting. They also visited Ross mine city. They also visited the Ross mine at LaCrescenta, Glendale, Long Beach, Pasadena and Los Angeles. Mr. Janiss stated he found conditions down there not as good as they should be.

Wesley Perry, who is employed under A. Dow, at Portola, spent Thursday evening in Nevada City visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Perry.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

By MARY MARTZ

The Nevada City A football team will play Grass Valley at Grass Valley on Armistice Day. Nevada City has already lost a game to Grass Valley when the B teams met, and everyone hopes the A team can even the score. The boys have been practicing hard. The boys who probably will be on the starting line up are Bill Molthen, Elgin Pingree, Phil Angove, Cliff Hoff, Eddie Doolittle, Hershal Lotz, George Williard, Rex Robinson, Melvin Clark, Bill Joyal, and Reggie Kennedy. Much enthusiasm has been created for the game and everyone is ready for the annual big game with Grass Valley.

TYPING AND SHORTHAND

The shorthand classes under the direction of Miss Baggley have shown fine progress. This week Rachael Horner and Helen Provine won their sixty word certificate. They are trying now for their eighty word certificate which they probably will win soon.

INJURED ARM HEALS

Mrs. Adeline Curtis of Manzanita street, who broke her left arm when she fell from her steps early in September has had the cast removed and expects to be able to use her arm by Thanksgiving. Her twin sister Adelaide Denny of Oakland was visiting at the time of the accident and has remained with her. They celebrated their 70th birthday September 10 and are Nevada county's oldest living twins.

A.A.U.W. WILL MEET WEDNESDAY EVENING

The Nevada County Unit of the American Association of University Women will hold its November meeting at the home of Mrs. Raglan Tuttle, Wednesday, November 10. with Mrs. Robert Ingram and Mrs. H. M. Leete in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. H. P. Davis of Nevada City will be guest speaker of the evening. Mrs. Davis who has lived in Norway, in Haiti, and other far distant parts of the world will picture to her audience many interesting things about the life and scenery of these countries. Mrs. Davis presents her intrepretations and facts in a colorful and witty manner and the ladies are looking forward with keen interest to hearing her Wednesday night.

Preceding the speaker of the evening there will be a brief business meeting which will begin at 7:30 o'clock. Each member of A. A. U. W. is privileged to bring one guest to Wednesday's meeting.

BANNER MT. POST AND AUXILIARY INSTALLATION

Sixty two members and guests were present Saturday evening to enjoy the party given by Banner Mt. Post at the Happy Hour resort on the Colfax road. A Grass Valley orchestra furnished music and a dainty banquet was served.

The Veterans and Auxiliary installed their newly elected officers earlier in the evening at a joint srevice in Pythian Castle in Nevada City.

The new officers of the post were published last issue but the newly elected and appointed officers for the auxiliary are, President, Elsie Weldon; Sr. Vice—Margaret Bosworth; Jr. Vice—Virginia Pease; Chaplain—Margaret Tonella; Conductress—Mae Williams; Treasurer—Helen Keifer; Secretary — Mary Tonella; Patriotic Instructor — Blanche Williams; Guard — Nancy James; Historian—Agnes Hoskens; Color Bearers—Minnie Young, Jessie Costa, Tillie Weiss, Leah Elkus; Trustee—Mildred Tobiassen. Mrs. O. Tonella, past president, installed the newly elected officers.

A short program furnished by the veterans at the Happy Hour was quite amusing. The Highland Fling by Earl Raymond was thoroughly enjoyed. Commander Glenn Cleland and C. E. Bosworth gave an argument, arrest, jailing and trial that was ridiculous. Sheriff Tobiassen was called to handcuff the pair but Tony Costa thinking the quarrel was real went to the rescue in real fashion. Attorney Frank Finnegon conducted a mock trial.

ROSEVILLE WINS

The Nevada City C basket ball team played Roseville's C team Friday. Roseville was victorious by a large score. Those playing on Nevada City's team were Kirk Martin, Ellsworth Pingree, Ronald Joyal, Bill Rickard, Lloyd Haddy and Charles Thomas. On November 10, the C team will play Grass Valley's team at Grass Valley.
